Project Description

The development of a new infrastructure facility in Sydney required significant ground improvement works to create a suitable formation level for the proposed end use. A dispute arose between the landlord and the leasee in regards to the time, cost and cost of time for the construction of the ground improvement works. CARAS were engaged by CBP lawyers to provide a factual review of the construction documentation and correspondence between the relevant stakeholders. CARAS provided a factual report with supporting documentation to the lawyers for legal review, which helped CBP lawyers to determine their legal case.

Services Provided

- Review of historical data and the identification of key documents.
- Identify the time sequence of design and construction events.
- Production of a factual report for legal purposes.
